NETWORK CAPABILITIES

We have the ability to build good personal relationships with service partners.

We have a contract that regulates responsibilities and defines how the risks are shared with our service partners.

We are in an active exchange with our network partners in the field of services.

We look for external partners that have complementary resources in the field of services.

We analyze what we want to achieve with each external partner in the service business before we start a cooperation.

PRICING OF SERVICES

The pricing of our services helps us to achieve our aims in the service business.

The costs of services are made transparent and are communicated to our customer.

Not only do our prices for services account for costs, but also for market prices and monetary value for the customer.

If it is impossible to bill services directly, we bill them indirectly (by including them in the product price) instead of offering them for free.

If possible we do not offer services for free, but charge them separately.
